

BMC CONNECT 2024 IS ALMOST HERE

We're just around the corner from BMC Connect, BMC's annual premier customer event, featuring an extraordinary lineup of customer speakers, technical sessions, educational and skills enhancement offerings, networking opportunities, and content and conversations that will enlighten, entertain, and inspire. Here's a sneak peek at just some of what's coming when we take over 50,000 square feet of the new Fontainebleau Las Vegas October 14–16. Come join us for the absolutely free event and discover the new BMC.

Get free training and get certified

This year, all attendees will receive a free code to take one of our 150+ web-based, on-demand courses, compliments of BMC Education, and we'll have free BMC Certified Associate testing for over 30 BMC products. You could also be among the first to get certified on BMC HelixGPT, our generative AI-powered BMC Helix capability that caters to IT, HR, ESM, and ServiceOps use cases. The free course includes a web-based fundamentals module that attendees complete before the event, followed by a four-hour instructor-led training onsite and a certification exam that can be completed at the event or online later.
